Arkéa Covid-19 social bond

Rationale

► Responsible development is at the heart of the Group's strategy

- The Arkéa group is a cooperative enterprise that is part of its local environment
- It has a very strong impact on the regions in which it operates and a special responsibility to all those who contribute to its development. This responsibility translates into supporting its customers, partners and territories in societal and environmental transitions
- It is through its financing and investments that the Group has the most leverage to support the success of these transitions

► The current coronavirus epidemic could have lasting social and economic impacts

- The severe effects of the pandemic in France require a response from the most relevant actors within the economy
- In this context, Arkéa decided to contribute to the effort by using its Social Bond Framework to finance and refinance eligible loans, which will help fight the consequences of the Covid-19 epidemic
